

IMI strengthens collaboration with MoE

KUALA LUMPUR — UK-based Institute of Motor Industry (IMI) affirmed its commitment to continue contributing to the Malaysian government's skills agenda by delivering industry-leading qualifications developed in line with emerging technologies for the automotive sector. Early last year, it signed an MoU with the Ministry of Education to provide training support across a network of community colleges. Kepala Batas Community College's Technology Centre for Hybrid and Electric Vehicle and Pekan Community College are among the colleges that began the process last year to train and equip technicians with new skills and knowledge relevant to energy-efficient vehicles (EEV).
